Today and TomorrowBy Charles Helderried
(Eagle Scout from Bristol Area
En Route to World Jamboree at France)HART RESERVATION, July 22—We arrived at Hart Reservation at three o'clock. There we were divided into troops and patrols.
George Jones and I are in Troop 26 which consists of boys from Washington, D. C., Maryland, Virginia and Delaware.We left Camp Hart on Saturday at six p. m., and arrived at Camp Kilmer at 9:30 p. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad. We were given our quarters and then we went to the mess hall and had a very delicious dinner. We then went to bed.On Sunday morning we turned out at eight a. m., and went to breakfast. At 11 a. m. we went to church.
We then went to lunch.In the afternoon we had free time, but we had a fire drill.In the evening we marched to Kilmer Bowl, which is an outdoor theatre. It was a formal opening of the sixth World Jamboree. The Army band from Kilmer played a few marches, and the scouts sang songs. The Jamboree staff was introduced. We turned in at 10 p. m., after we all had had a good time
at the different officers' clubs.

Well, I guess that's all for now.

Boy Scouts from every state in the Union, District of Columbia and Alaska, converged on Camp Kilmer, a huge Army installation, Saturday,
to prepare for their departure
Thursday for the sixth world Jamboree at Moisson, France. Included in the group were George Jones, Troop 53, Yardley, and Charles Hol-derried, Troop 69, Croydon.The 1,090 scouts and their leaders were assigned to barracks for their processing period at Camp Kilmer.
Members of the youthful mission, designed to promote international good will, are treading the same ground from which thousands of their older brothers sailed for Europe's battlefields.Instead of being indoctrinated with the arts of war, however, they are being prepared for a mission of peace and understanding among nations.For those who arrived late Saturday and early Sunday morning, religious services were held in the post chapels. This evening, gathered in the big Kilmer Bowl, they received an official greeting from Col. Harold R. Duffie, commanding officer, and heard the first of a series of orientation talks that will be continued on Page ThreeFamily Reunion Takes

LESS MEAT FOR 1948

It is doubtful whether very many of the nation's housewives are avid readers of the Department of Agriculture's crop reports. But a report issued by the department the other day is of deep concern to everyone who totes a market basket. This is the forecast that the corn crop this year will run to only 2,612,809,000 bushels. Since corn is the chief raw material out of which beefsteaks are made, this means that there will probably be even less meat available, at higher prices, in 1948 than there has been in 1947.

This is not precisely pleasant news considering that meat is already expensive and that there is only a slight chance that prices will drop until the supply goes up. However, there is a possible lesson for consumers in some other figures which the Department of Agriculture gave out along with the forecast on the corn crop. Americans are now eating meat at the rate of 153 pounds per person per year. This year's corn harvest, although far short of 1946's record crop, will be enough to provide each consumer with 138 pounds. That, as it happens, is 12 more pounds of meat per person per year than the prewar average.

Thus, one of the basic reasons why supplies are short and prices high is that Americans are eating more meat than they ever did before. If they started eating less, it is possible that the shortage and the high price might disappear together.

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY

It wasn't hard to understand why Paul V. McNutt was so visibly distressed when he withdrew his name for the Democratic Vice-Presidential nomination at the 1940 convention. He knew the delegates didn't want Wallace; he knew he could be nominated, yet he withdrew on orders from President Roosevelt.

James A. Farley recalls that drama in an article in Collier's magazine on his break with the New Deal President. The President resisted all attempts by several of his advisers, including Mrs. Roosevelt, to get him to name someone other than Henry A. Wallace, according to Mr. Farley.

Mr. Farley describes the scene at the convention: "One by one the field of some 17 Vice-Presidential candidates was narrowed to three men. Only Speaker Bankhead, Wallace and McNutt were left in the race. McNutt could have been nominated, but he withdrew his name at the request of the President. The delegates were ugly. They did not want Wallace."

Despite the delegates' resentment over Mr. Wallace, they were trapped by the President's adroit maneuvering.

"No one who studies this convention can deny that the President showed himself to be a master of political rough-and-tumble, with no holds barred," says Mr. Farley.

With that, no one will disagree.

the dollars that go down the rat-holes.

In the construction of three military cemeteries in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Alaska, the Congressman reports that the army wants appropriations for the following, among other items:

Flagpole, Hawaii $3,500
Flagpole, Puerto Rico 5,000
Flagpole, Alaska 7,500

In Hawaii:

To clear 44 acres of land at $1,275 an acre $55,850

Top-soiling 44 acres at $5,700 an acre 250,800

Landscaping and planting 44 acres at $650 an acre 29,320

Six-room administration office 52,700

In Puerto Rico:

Top-soiling 14 acres at $4,800 an acre $67,200

5 foot wrought iron picket fence with masonry base 70,000

Superintendent's lodge and office 35,000

In Juneau, Alaska:

1,050 feet of fencing at $50 a foot $52,500

Top-soiling and seeding 6 acres at $7,500 an acre 45,000

Of course, there are a lot more items (there always are) but the total money wanted by the War Department is:

Hawaii cemetery $746,400

Puerto Rico cemetery 428,500

Alaska cemetery 348,700

Grand total $1,523,600

As Congressman Engel wrote the Secretary of War: "These estimates seem to me to be outrageously high."

These dead came from all walks of life. Some of the fathers and mothers of these soldiers are low income people who pay heavy taxes and they would be the last to ask such outrageous costs for a cemetery.

If a private group presented Congress with a claim for such cemetery costs as these, they would be accused of racketeering.

For comparison, ask the superintendent of your local cemetery how much it costs to develop one acre. And then, with the gigantic waste in this item in mind, mull over the question of how many other similar wastes are being covered up when President Truman tells us that $37,500,000,000 is a rock-bottom figure.

FROM THE

BRISTOL

has ALWAYS been a GOOD place to LIVE and WORK

To most people home is the center of everything. . . . To us, that home is Bristol . . . its churches, schools, stores, manufacturing plants, parks, lakes, streams are ours, in which to worship, educate our children, shop, work and play.

A long time ago, the Indians settled in this region. They liked it here . . . because it was a good place to establish a home . . . on the shore of the Delaware . . . on the side of a hill protected by towering timber. . . . They liked it here because it was a good place to provide a livelihood for their families . . . gain a little surplus for lean days . . . and they found endless enjoyment in these same lakes, streams and hills.

The timber has gone . . . in place of wigwams and cabins have arisen modern homes to shelter the people in Bristol.

The hills, woods and waters no longer provide our only livelihood . . . now we also work and earn and save in manufacturing plants, stores, farms and offices.

As a living symbol of the everlasting charms of nature . . . the natural beauty of Bristol remains much the same as when the Indians and colonists found happiness, a home and a good living here. From time to time, we have been able to add a little something . . . a church, a school, a factory, a park, a playground . . . that has made it easier for us all . . . for our children . . . to enjoy that which we inherited from the Indians, many, many years ago. We are proud to be a part of Bristol. We live here for the same reasons that you do . . . because it is a good place in which to live, worship, work and play.

uninjured. Mrs. Herstine suffered slightly from shock.

Another bolt struck a large tree on North Seventh street.

Although there was considerable lightning and thunder for more than half an hour, no rain fell. Tuesday afternoon, the Bedminster section had a heavy downpour with lightning and thunder, but again Perkaskie had no rain. There was a downpour of rain early Thursday morning.

Methods of farming in Germany as they were practiced before she was reduced to her present status were described at the meeting of Plumsteadville Grange by Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Zimmerman, natives of that country, but residents of the United States since childhood.

Speaking before approximately 40 members, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman also spoke of their home life in Germany. When she was a child, Mrs. Zimmerman said, the children were required to watch cows in the fields throughout the entire day to assist in the seeding of crops. They also helped harvest the potatoes with hoes.

According to Mrs. Zimmerman, when the farmers had all the potatoes they wanted, they permitted the children to enter the fields to gather potatoes for homes in the community. This also applied to the harvest of grain. Children taking the grain to their homes turned it over to their parents who converted it into flour.

Beginning Monday all members of the group underwent medical inspections, which included checks of immunization records. Then came a check of equipment to be taken to France. It is expected that many boys who arrived with heavily laden duffle bags and steamer trunks will be prevailed upon to lighten their loads.

Today and tomorrow have been set aside for those out-of-towners who wish to visit New York. It is expected that the majority of the boys will stay in camp to rehearse for the exhibits and demonstrations to be given abroad.

Following a final physical check tomorrow, the boys will hold a farewell campfire ceremony at seven p. m., with scout and camp officials as guests.

The jamboree delegation will embark Thursday morning aboard the General C. H. Muir at Pier 11, Staten Island. The ship is a former Army transport and its use was approved by President Truman last April. The trip to Europe will last six weeks.

Following the arrival of the General Muir at Antwerp on August 2, the scouts will tour Belgium and Holland. The world jamboree at Molsion, 40 miles northwest of Paris, will last from August 9th to August 18th.

For three days after the close of the jamboree, the scouts will tour Paris and vicinity. The return voyage will be aboard the General Harry Taylor, sailing from Le Havre on August 22nd and arriving in New York on August 29th or 30th.

While many scouts are paying their own expenses for the trip, most of them are being financed by church groups, service clubs and other organizations in recognition of outstanding scout work.

Marshall May Assure France

Paris—Paris diplomatic circles predicted today that Secretary of State Marshall may assure France of United States willingness to enter a multilateral 30-year pact against Germany even if Russia fails to join such a military alliance. Britain and France would be the other signatories.

These predictions, based on reports current in the French capital, followed receipt by the French Foreign Office of an important communication from Washington concerning America's proposed security pact against Germany.

talk the manufacturer into hiring male veterans.

But the job can't begin and end with the committees alone. To make their work effective, Pennsylvania industry must expand its on-the-job training programs and apprenticeship programs for unskilled workers.

The state's veterans organizations are making praiseworthy efforts to help out. The Military Order of Foreign Wars, for example, provides an opportunity for former officers with special employment problems to consult with members.

Veterans in the Pittsburgh area get valuable assistance from a committee composed of 80 prominent employers who volunteered their services. This is augmented by a cooperative advisory service on loans and investments.

The "Philadelphia Veterans' Advisory Committee maintains a center which provided 29,255 job referrals from Feb. 1, 1946, to January 31. More than 1700 firms provide the center with job opportunities.

The Pennsylvania State Employment Service placed 41,000 in jobs in Philadelphia County in the first half of this year. These included jobs for 3300 disabled former servicemen.

Lending aid also are such specialized groups as the Sales Managers' Association which arranged interviews with sales managers in the particular field in which the veteran is interested; the Philadelphia Textile Association, and Printing Industries of Philadelphia.

mother, Mrs. Daniel W. O'Leary, and the Rev. James R. Cox. Sally's father met them at the airport upon their return. It is stated that Sally removed her braces after bathing in the sacred waters and took her first unaided steps.

"We took 'Bobby' to the Shrine of St. Anne de Beapre and the Shrine of St. Joseph in Canada when he was a baby," stated Mrs. Baker today. "Bobby" was not able to walk until he was about five or six years of age, but has been improving since then. He walks with difficulty, but without cane, crutches or brace. He had informed Sally that he was praying for her recovery, and asked that she would pray for him.

"Bobby" is one of the star pupils at Tullytown school, it is claimed. He will enter sixth grade here in the fall. He is outstanding in spelling, although he prefers geography, history and arithmetic. He received an airplane for highest marks in spelling in his class at the end of the term. The lad also likes to work with his hands, and saws wood to make bird-houses, fits the parts together, then does the painting. He attends services at Sacred Heart Chapel here.

"Bobby" is one of four children, having a twin brother, Jacob, Jr.; another brother, John, six; and a sister, Charlotte, nine.

FUR WORKERS WIN OVER GOODWILL IN EASY FASHION

Race for Third Spot Grows Hotter by Surprise Result

FINAL SCORE IS 12 TO 4

Fur Processors Hit The Ball Hard for Ten Safe Blows

The race for third spot in the first division of the Bristol Suburban League became hotter last evening as the Fur Workers scored a surprising 12-4 victory over the Goodwill Hose team on the Third Ward field. The Fur Workers are now but two and one-half games away from third position and two games away from the other positions down.

The Fur processors hit the pill hard, having ten safe blows and scoring in every inning except the second. "Jimmy" Hopkins suffered the brunt of the Fur Workers' attack, he being driven from the mound in the third after Macevic had crashed out a triple.

Until the third, the hosemen were enjoying a 4-2 lead. Joe McDevitt who relieved Hopkins, fared little better and was rapped for four runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

George Grow was the starting pitcher for the Fur Workers, he giving way to "Jim" Kelly in the third. Kelly was the winning pitcher.

BADENHAUSEN LOSES TO LANGHORNE LEGION

CORNWELL'S HEIGHTS, July 22.—Seven runs in the second inning gave the Langhorne Legion aggregation a 9-7 win over the Badenhause club last evening in a Suburban League tilt on the Bensalem high school field.

The Badies outlit the Langhorne boys, 11-9 and used two hurlers on the mound, but the seven runs in the second was too much of a handicap to overcome.

Paul Leighton was the first Badenhause moundsman and he left in the second. "Charlie" Martindell finished. Mitchell went the route for the Legionnaires.

The seven runs were scored on singles by Reed, Ferrill, Campion, and a triple by "Bill" Lamb plus a walk, hit batter, and fielder's choice.

DEMOCRAT CLUB SCORES A VICTORY

An error by "Teddie" Tosti and "Johnny" Centonze's single gave the Democrat Club a close 4-3 win over the Fifth Ward Sporting Club last evening in a Bristol Suburban League upset on Leedom's field.

The count was deadlocked 2-2 going into the last half of the sixth when the first two batters were retired. But Keyes walked and stole second. Meade hit to Tosti who erred and Keyes scored. Centonze then scored Meade with a single.

The Warders rallied in their last turn with the stick but could only score one run and had the tying and winning runs on base when the third out was made.

Bob Norris was the winning hurler, he giving the Warders six hits, two of which were made in the final inning. Joe Sagolla pitched tough

ST. ANN'S AVENGES EARLIER DEFEAT; WALLOP SOBY POST

Bristol Team Defeats Langhorne Nine by Score of 13 to 3

11TH WIN OF SEASON

Palumbo Wielded the Most Potent Mace for St. Ann's Sluggers

LANGHORNE, July 22.—St. Ann's A. A. avenged an early season defeat last evening as they trounced the Soby Post nine, 13-3, on Playwick field. Earlier in the season, Soby handed St. Ann's a 7-5 defeat after the "Saints" had won 12 straight games.

Last evening's win was the 11th straight for the Wood Streeters in their new winning streak and also the seventh consecutive mound triumph for "Nate" Chichietti.

As usual, "Rabbit" Palumbo wielded the most potent mace for the St. Ann's sluggers, getting a triple and double in three trips to the plate and scoring three runs.

Dale Miller, who beat St. Ann's in their first meeting was no trouble for the winners as they chased him from the mound in the third inning, scoring 10 runs before Reese went in.
